Competitive tenders can be submitted for any amount up to the issue size and must state the price the bidder is willing to pay for each $1,000 of the face value being applied for. Competitive bids may be rejected if the face value of the entire issue is allocated at higher bid prices or if the price quoted is lower than the cut-off price set by the Central Bank. No allocation will be made to a bid that is rejected.

Non-competitive tenders for values up to $100,000 can also be submitted. For these bids, the bidder agrees to accept the weighted average price of the successful bids determined in the competitive auction.

For competitive tenders, payments must be in the amount of the total cost of the bills; for non-competitive tenders, payments will be equivalent to the face value being applied for.
