

CENTRAL BANK OF TRINIDAD & TOBAGO

KNOWING YOUR MONEY

The Central Bank of Trinidad and Tobago has confirmed with our printers that there was a misprint on a few—less than 100 in number—of the $20 notes in circulation. This misprint shows up as one side of the note being blank for the most part.

The Bank wishes to assure that the particular notes in question are valid legal tender and should be brought in to the Central Bank to be exchanged.

We also wish to remind the public of the need to be vigilant in recognising genuine banknotes. For further information on the features of the Trinidad and Tobago banknotes, you may visit our website www.central-bank.org.tt as well as our Facebook page and YouTube channel. Please feel free to contact us at info@central-bank.org.tt.

May 21, 2020 Update from the Central Bank of Trinidad and Tobago.