Central Bank joins Lots of Socks

On March 21, 2018, the staff of the Central Bank joined the worldwide movement and rocked their socks in recognition of World Down Syndrome Day 2018. World Down Syndrome Day celebrated through Down Syndrome International, promotes the Lots of Socks campaign, which is gaining global recognition as it raises public awareness and advocates for the rights, inclusion and well-being of people with Down Syndrome. The campaign encourages persons to wear bright, colourful, striped, mismatched, long socks, one sock or even three socks, to make a statement for the cause. #lotsofsocks #WDSD2018

Staff contributions were presented to the Down Syndrome Family Network (DSFN), the local DS network.
