

52nd Annual Monetary Studies

CONFERENCE 2021

Call for Papers

November 1-3, 2021

Central Bank of Trinidad and Tobago
(via Cisco Webex)

The Central Bank of Trinidad and Tobago and the Caribbean Economic Research Team (CERT) is pleased to announce the 52nd Annual Monetary Studies Conference (AMSC) on Fiscal and Monetary Policy in the Caribbean in Pandemic Times. We now invite submission of completed research papers or extended abstracts on the following topics:

- Innovative monetary policy to support/accelerate growth during pandemics.
- Building fiscal buffers for the next global shock.
- Are our monetary policy tools adequate?
- Coordinating monetary and fiscal policies for growth.
- Recovering debt sustainability.
- Have our financial systems weathered the COVID-19 pandemic? Should we be concerned about financial stability in the future?
- How has the COVID-19 pandemic affected our statistical infrastructures?

Submission Procedure: Papers or extended abstracts can be e-mailed to: amsc2021@central-bank.org.tt

The deadline for submission is Friday, September 17, 2021.

Authors will be notified by Friday, September 24, 2021.

Authors will be required to register for the conference after acceptance notification and submit an electronic copy (Microsoft Word format) of the completed research paper by Friday, October 15, 2021.

Should you require additional information, please contact the AMSC Secretariat at amsc2021@central-bank.org.tt

CENTRAL BANK OF
TRINIDAD & TOBAGO

Caribbean Economic Research Team